

Cask Offer

2017

The Distillery

The Isle of Arran Distillery opened in 1995 at Lochranza, on the north-west tip of the island, where the perfect elements for making single malt were discovered. Although a modern Distillery our single malt is hand-crafted by traditional methods and the full production process is overseen by our experienced Master Distiller, James MacTaggart who has worked in the whisky industry for over 30 years.

In recognition of the quality of our single malt Scotch whisky the Isle of Arran Distillery was named in 2007 as both 'Scottish Distiller of the Year' and 'Scottish Drinks Producer of the Year'. In addition the company was awarded the Queen's Award for Enterprise in 2005 whilst our products regularly receive high ratings from whisky writers and industry panels, including several medals from the International Wine & Spirit competition.

The Cask Offer is an opportunity to lay down your own stock of the Arran Single Malt, to witness its development from new make spirit to full maturity and ultimately have access to a personal supply of our award-winning whisky. Please note we do not encourage the purchase of our casks for financial investment as the market price for bulk whisky is subject to fluctuation.

In 2017 we are offering a small parcel of Peated Arran Casks for sale to the public. Each year since 2004, we have produced a limited quantity of single malt from barley peated to a level of 20ppm. In total, 20 barrels of Peated Arran will be offered on a first-come-first served basis.

Purchase

1. Select the size of Cask you wish to order.

Casks are stored with other Arran stock at one of our warehouses; this may not be on Arran. Unfortunately we are unable to guarantee that private casks can remain on Arran. Please note it is the responsibility of the cask owner to advise the company of any changes of address in order that storage and insurance is kept up to date.

Cask Visits

You are welcome to visit your cask but this must be done strictly by appointment only. We request notice of 5 working days for any cask visit and 10 working days if a sample is requested at the time of the visit. Isle of Arran is a busy, working Distillery and there will be times when visits are not possible due to the production schedule or annual leave.

UPON MATURATION - BOTTLING PROCEDURE

Bottling

We recommend bottling at ten years of age but the whisky can be left to mature for longer if required.

As we do not have our own bottling plant, we cannot bottle your whisky for you. However, we can recommend two bottlers who can bottle for you; please find their contact details below. Bottling charges currently amount to approximately £29 per case of 12 bottles. This price includes bottles, corks, capsules, cartons and basic labels.

If you are considering bottling your whisky, we would recommend the following procedure:

1. Order a sample from your cask. Current sample charges amount to £50/£60 for a small sample, including UK taxes and postage and packaging. Please contact us for a quote if you live overseas as the postage and packaging charge will differ.
2. Decide if you wish to have your whisky bottled and contact one of the bottlers to discuss the bottling. The bottlers will inform you about their bottling prices and discuss the details with you.
3. Inform us that you wish to have your cask bottled, which bottler you wish to use and when you would like to have your whisky bottled. For operational reasons, we would ask you to let us know as soon as possible if you wish to have your cask bottled so that we can co-ordinate cask removals at a convenient time.

Strength

We recommend bottling at 46% alcohol but whisky can be bottled to a minimum of 40%. The whisky can also be bottled at cask strength (between approximately 55% and 60%, depending on the age of the whisky) - the cask will yield fewer bottles if the whisky is bottled at cask strength.

Angels' Share

Approximately 2% of the cask contents evaporate per year (the so-called 'Angels' Share'); at the same time the strength decreases. There may be spillage when the contents of the cask are bottled but this should not exceed 1% of the total volume. Please note the evaporation rate of each cask will vary and the losses may be higher than outlined above.

Number of Bottles

This depends on a number of factors such as maturation rate, age of the whisky, etc. On a very approximate basis, you should assume that a hogshead (250 bulk litres), bottled at 46% alc. vol., in 70cl bottles, after 10 years would yield 360 bottles and a barrel (200 bulk litres) would yield 280 bottles.

Partial Bottling and Further Warehousing

Some of the bottlers may be able to bottle part of a cask and store the remainder on their premises. Please ask the bottlers directly about this and request information about further storage from them.

Labelling

As we have registered the rights to the names 'The Arran Malt', 'Lochranza' and 'Isle of Arran Distillers' worldwide, it is not possible to use this name for the bottling of private casks. "Single Malt, produced at the Isle of Arran Distillery" is acceptable. We ask cask owners to discuss the labelling with the bottling plants and to provide their own labels to the bottling plants. However, the bottling plants might be able to supply simple labels and will be able to advise cask owners regarding label and legal requirements. Please send us a draft of the label for approval.

TAXES AND DISTRIBUTION

Duty and VAT

Duty is the charge made by HM Customs & Excise based on the percentage of pure alcohol.

The current rate in the UK is £27.66 per litre of pure alcohol (valid at April 2015). This is £106.87 per case of 12 bottles (70cl) at 46% alc. vol.

UK VAT is currently 20%. This is charged on the purchase price of the whisky together with the Duty rate prevailing at the time of removal from bond and the storage and insurance charges paid over the years. Both Duty and VAT are due after the cask has been bottled and the finished goods are removed from the bonded warehouse.

Taxes are subject to change by the UK government. Various different rates of Duty apply throughout the EU and the rest of the world.

Export

As of the 23rd November 2012, Single Malt Scotch whisky by law (Scotch Whisky Regulations 2009), can only be exported from Scotland in bottled form, labeled for retail sale. If the whisky is exported under bond, Duty and VAT can be suspended (but not avoided) subject to the exporter being registered for both Duty and VAT, and being registered as a bona fide exporter. Duty and VAT would be payable in the country of final destination at the rates prevailing in that country at that time. It is up to the cask owner to find a suitable importer in the destination country and to arrange the export but the bottling plants may be able to assist with this. Please note it is the responsibility of the cask purchaser to be aware of all regulations prevailing in their country of residence regarding the importation of alcohol plus any issues regarding labelling. Planned legislation in the UK will mean that the spirit can only be shipped out of the country in bottled form.

Capital Gains

For UK tax payers, UK Capital Gains Tax is not applicable as whisky is regarded as a “tangible”, “moveable” and “wasting asset”. Whisky purchased in cask for personal use, as gifts for family, godchildren and friends, etc. would therefore be exempt from Capital Gains Tax on realisation of the asset.

Price Calculation

For your convenience, please find below a model calculation at current rates, which gives you an idea of the total costs for an ex-Sherry Hogshead, bottled in 10yrs time at 46% alc. vol., in 70cl bottles:

Equivalent price per bottle = £20.41 (current RRP for The Arran Malt 10 Years Old: £34.99)

To this you have to add the transport and handling charges for shipping the whisky from the bottling plant to the delivery address and the cost of the labels.

Purchase Price of First Fill Ex-Sherry Hogshead – including 10 years storage and insurance	£2,650.00
Bottling Charge (approx. £29 x 30 cases of 12x70cl)	£870.00
